RMS Titanic - Wikipedia

RMS Titanic was a British passenger liner that sank in the North Atlantic Ocean in 1912 after the ship struck an iceberg during her maiden voyage from Southampton to New York City. Of the estimated 2,224 passengers and crew aboard, more than 1,500 died, making it one of modern history's deadliest peacetime commercial marine disasters. RMS Titanic was the largest ship afloat at the time she ...

The Food Timeline: history notes--restaurants, chefs ...

Restaurants & catering While public eateries existed in Ancient Rome and Sung Dynasty China, restaurants (we know them today), are generally credited to 18th century France. The genesis is quite interesting and not at all what most people expect. Did you know the word restaurant is derived from the French word restaurer which means to restore? The first French restaurants [pre-revolution] were...

Warrington People

James Bell (born 1524 in Warrington, died 20 April 1584 in Lancaster, age 60) was an English Catholic priest who was educated at Oxford University, where he was ordained priest in Queen Mary’s reign. For some time he refused to conform to the changes in religion made by Queen Elizabeth, but afterwards, adopting the tenets of the Reformation, he exercised the functions of a minister of the ...

Built in Dunedin | a city's buildings and their stories ...

Constructed from brick, with a stone foundation and a slate roof, the buildings cost £2,898. An Otago Daily Times reporter wrote approvingly: Although appearance has not been the main object in view, it must be admitted that the front elevation of the buildings displays an exceptionally neat style of architecture, and that the block is by no means the least creditable of many fine buildings ...
